

Press Release

Between 21 and 23rd of March, 2018 IFINN – HH / ELI- NP will host a new meeting for the project Danube Framework for Responsible Research and Innovation using Socio-Technical Integration (D-STIR).

The program of the meeting is built on three pillars: first year review and the fifth partners meeting, first study visit and mid-term event (public event).

First day aims at understanding the progress of the project in terms of objectives, outputs and result achievement, as well as in terms of financial spending. The tool of the monitoring is a personal visiting from the JS, where the partners give presentation of the progressing of the project the day will end with a Steering Committee meeting.

Second day Study visit – pilot actions in academic environment will offer to our guest the opportunity to visit ELI –NP facility, to see the progressed done in implementing the Romanian part from the three pillars of ELI project.

Third and last day of the meeting is dedicated to a public event that will present the first results in applying the STIR method.

We are looking forward for meeting you in Bucharest.
